Self Service (macOS)

Self Service is CUIT's client utility portal that is accessible from any CUIT managed macOS computer. This application gives access to install applications with its library, attach to network share drives, and run computer maintenance items.

Self Service can be accessed via icon on your dock or applications folder.

All of the applications/utilities are categorized in the column on the left.

All of the applications listed in Self Service are available without the requirement of administrative rights. For applications that do require administrative rights, please see Make Me Admin. Clicking the desired software will bring you to the application description dialogue box which will give you a brief informational of the software, the option to cancel, and the option to install.

Clicking the Install button will initiate the installation and a green check mark will appear when the installation is complete.
